

Partnership Towns of Tenterfield, Australia Ottobeuren~Böhen~Hawangen, Bavaria

Partnership Deed

The Administered districts of OTTOBEUREN and it's member towns of Böhen, Hawangen and Ottobeuren in Germany together with the Shire of TENTERFIELD and it's many communities within the Shire of Tenterfield in the State of N.S.W. Australia declare with this deed their partnership. Since 1998 existing contacts between our communities will be through this Act officially recognised, and should in the future show more depth and expansion. In the symbol of globalization and friendly relationships, there should be a building, which gives our citizens, especially our youth a better chance for world wide development. Cultural and Knowledge exchanges are the basis of friendly international relationships. Working together for the benefits of the Citizens, States and Communities. It is our will that our Schools are early in the development of this Deed included in the exchange of Students and Young People with a program of work experience with the purpose of learning our different cultures and establishing a program for a variety of ages and qualifications for all, thus creating a pillar for this partnership deed. Our partnership will serve to establish Friendship, Fairness and an unshamable understanding of international freedom which should be free of any prejudice.
