VISITOR INFORMATION CENTRE WILL CONTINUE

A more efficient service model for the town's Visitor Information Centre will be investigated by Tenterfield Shire Council (TSC) over coming months.

TSC Mayor Bronwyn Petrie said Council was dealing with major budget pressures and was examining all operations to ensure delivery of sustainable, cost-effective services to ratepayers and visitors to the region.

"Visitor information services will certainly continue, but in a more cost-effective way. We are looking at the model of what's being offered, as well as co-locating from the current standalone site to the Sir Henry Parkes Memorial School of Arts which would provide building and maintenance savings.

"The Information Centre and its staff have done a great job and Council will continue to support visitors with information and guidance on the region's many historic and natural attractions.

"We'll be consulting with the community and businesses on the best way to meet the needs of visitors to our region," Cr Petrie said.

Broader review of Council services

Cr Petrie said assessment of the Visitor Information Centre

operations was part of Council's broader review of services to contain operating costs and redress budget deficits.

"With the new Council's term (two-and-a-half years) shorter than the usual four years, we need to make decisions to ensure our operations and services are efficient and financially viable.

"I'll be working with fellow Councillors to ensure our community is kept fully-informed of all proposed changes, including with rates and the Visitors Information Centre," Cr Petrie said.
